

I recently moved from San Diego, but when I lived there I listened to and contributed to KLOVE radio station. It has always been a source of positive encouragement to me. I listened to it most when I was on my way from and to work. It made it alot better knowing that there were people out there that weren't cynical about life and that there were still good people all around. That can sometimes be missed in the every day tasks of life. I believe that KLOVE makes a huge difference in the lives of many people and it would be a shame if it was no longer available.
